like a battle cry of triumph :

LEE AT THE WILDERN
Twas a terrible meanent:
The blood and the root!
His great be on shook
With an awful doubt.
Confusion in front,
And a pause in the cries;
and askness like night
Passed over our skies:
There were tears in the eves
Of General Lee.

Of our column unsteady; L"WE ARE HERE! We are ready With rifle and binde! Cried the Texas Brigade To General Lee.

He smiled—it meant death,
That wonderful smile;
It is aped like a flame
I own each close-set file.
And we stormed to the front
With a long, load cry;
We had I ng age learned
How to charge—how to die,
There was afth in the eye
Of General Lee.

But a sudden pause came, As we cashed on the foe, And our seeiling columns Swayed to and fro: Cold grew our blood,

Glowing like wine, And a quick, sharp whileper

How grandly he role!

As his great bosons shock With an awful desire? But, "Back to the rear! Till yen rice to the rear, & e will not do battle With gan or with blade!" ('rie! the Texas Brigade To General Lee.

And so he rode back, And our terrible yell

I felt my foot s'ip.

In the gathering fray, I looked—and my brother Lay dead in my way; I paused but one moment,

1 passed but one moment, To draw him saids. An the gash on his beach Was bloody and wide! But he smiled-for he died For General Lee!

Christ! Twas maddening work:
But the work was done,
And a few came back
When the hour was won.
Let it glow in the peerless
Records of the featless,
The charge that was made
By the Tuxas Brigade,
For General Lee!
